Bio:

In the heart of the metal realm, emerges Metalland—a Classic Heavy Metal juggernaut on a mission to revive the golden era of metal. Formed in the crucible of musical passion, this quartet is a sonic force reminiscent of the greats—Judas Priest, Iron Maiden, and Queensrÿche.

Fronting the charge is Bobby (Leather Lung) Lucas, a vocalist with a range that echoes through the ages. His commanding presence and versatile voice pay homage to the legendary frontmen of classic metal, adding an extra layer of intensity to every performance.

Mike D'Amato the guitar virtuoso of Metalland, wields his instrument with precision and power. D'Amato's lightning-fast solos and anthemic riffs transport listeners back to the glory days of metal while infusing a modern edge that keeps the flame burning bright.

Michael Anthony Lisa lays down the foundation with thunderous bass lines that resonate with the primal heartbeat of metal. Michael's groove-infused playing adds a dynamic layer, ensuring that Metalland's sound is as solid as the steel they stand upon.

At the helm of the rhythmic onslaught is John Crocco a drumming force that propels the band forward with relentless power. Crocco's precision and energy behind the kit create a thunderous atmosphere, underscoring Metalland's commitment to the raw, unbridled spirit of classic metal.

Frankie Oquendo a classic Heavy Metal guitarist born to the anthems of Judas Priest and Iron Maiden, Frankie Oquendo has dedicated his life to forging a sonic legacy that pays homage to the golden age of metal while carving a path uniquely his own.

Live, Metalland delivers an electrifying experience, a sonic pilgrimage through the realms of classic metal glory. Their shows are a celebration of the unapologetic power, anthemic choruses, and intricate musicianship that define the genre.

As torchbearers of the classic metal flame, Metalland invites metalheads from all corners of the world to join them on this epic journey. Raise your horns, bang your head, and embark on a metal adventure with Metalland—a band destined to etch their name into the annals of heavy metal history. The age of classic metal has found a new champion in the realm of Metalland!
